The Mentor's Role: On-the-job training in the water treatment industry occurs as a form of an apprenticeship. In the MEP the mentor is asked to provide guidance for the hands-on activities and approve the learner's responses to questions associated with the hands-on activities. This will help the mentor detect and address any problems the learner may be encountering. The ideal mentor is one who has more experience with correctly addressing issues in the field than the learner. The MEP allows for multiple mentors per learner to reduce the load on any one mentor.

- MEP pricing is for 1 year access and does NOT include certification exam fees
- Exam fees range from $141/$173/$315 (public) to $202/$247/$450 (private)
- Completion of the MEP training is a prerequisite for WQA Professional Certification
